

6 - GAMESHOWS AND PLAYS

WHAT?

- Ever wanted to be a contestant on Who Want to be a Millionaire? Or Catchphrase (for those of you that are old enough to remember that show)? Well now's your chance to do just that!
- You can even do a play for your members, or get them to act it out!
- Here's a bunch of games (many from renowned gameshows) that you can play at your events.
- There's Who Wants to be a Dharma-aire and even a Hindu Dharma Catchphrase!

WHY? (not sure if this really needs a why section cos it's obvious, but let's spell it out...)

- It's FUN!
- What's more, you get to learn about Hindu Dharma at the same time. Two birds saved with one game!

HOW?

- Simply use the games, play script and gameshows we've already made for you.
- Create your own games, questions, catchphrases etc (cos I'm sure y'all are much more creative than us oldies on the national committee!)
- Check the new NHSF website for more information on Hindu Dharma that you can easily use.

WHO?

- Everyone from the chapter members and even committee members can get involved
- This will also allow you all to mingle and get to know each other in a fun, comfortable, satvic atmosphere.
- Inter-chapter competitions (if you think you're good enough at Catchphrase!) are always a great way to drum up interest and get more people attending and having even more fun.

WHEN?

- Why not do it as part of your weekly worship event (be sure to advertise that you'll be doing this!)
- Possibly as a one-off "Entertainment Evening"
- Give people a fun taster at your Meet and Greet
- Festival celebrations (e.g. Holi) is always a good time
- Sewa Week

WHERE?

- Depends on when you're doing it, so just choose appropriately (make sure there's a projector there obviously, unless you're gonna change it up and do it by hand/flipchart/whiteboard etc)
